FOREWORD

This year of 1947 brings with it the first year of our second century. A new era is dawning for our school, as well as for the entire world. It is an age of many changes in every phase of our lives. No doubt the greatest change has come in the introduction of atomic power, for it has brought in its wake both hope and fear to the hearts of all peoples. We, too, from the campus of our school look to the future with great hopes and expectations. We, too, wonder what it holds for us. But as we look ahead it is not with fear in our hearts. It is with faith. As we move forward we do so with the conviction that we are moving towards a better world.

PRESIDENT C. P. McCLELLAND

THE first issue of the ILLIWOCO in MacMurray's second century is a significant publication. Future historians of the College are certain to be pleased with the full and interesting pictorial review of the College's activities for the year 1946-47 given in these pages.

We are all looking forward with great expectations. We believe that the College has before it a great future. Within a year or two our new chapel and an additional residence hall will be completed. Other buildings will follow: one for a College Union and another for Physical Education. Beyond that, I do not know what will come in the development of our physical plant. But, with all of our fine buildings, an adequate endowment, an excellent faculty, and the finest girls in the world, surely, we are on the way to the fulfillment of our "manifest destiny."

Clarence P. McClelland

President of MacMurray College

Mrs. McClelland, whose friendly hospitality has made her the gracious hostess of the MacMurray campus.

THE DEANS

ROMA N. HAWKINS

As Dean of Students, Mrs. Hawkins helps them to maintain a proper balance between the social functions and academic work. She is adviser to the Junior class and serves as capable director of placement for graduates.

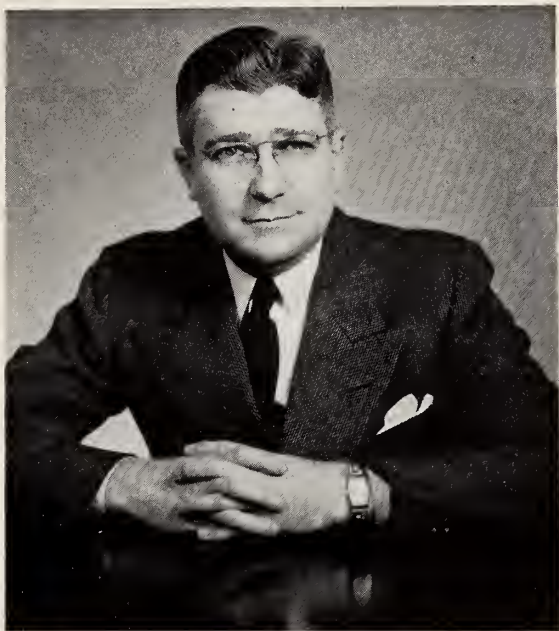

WENDELL S. DYSINGER

Dr. Dysinger, as Dean of the College, offers guidance and advice to students concerning the choice of a vocation and the courses necessary in the preparation for it.

MARY E. BAIRD

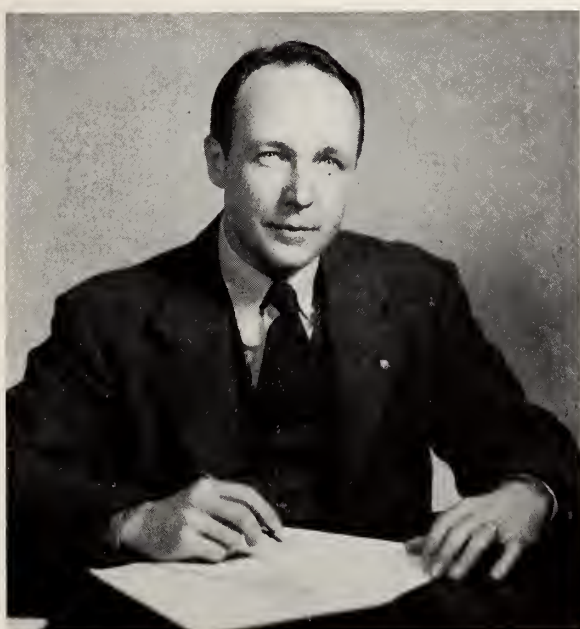

This is Miss Baird's last year here at Mac-Murray. Soon she will be enjoying a well deserved vacation. We shall all remember her untiring effort not only as Dean of Students, but also as director of residence and adviser to the Sophomore class.

THE BUSINESS DEPARTMENT

HAROLD E. GIBSON

Although his position as Director of Admissions and Public Relations keeps him very busy, Mr. Gibson still finds time to serve as friend and adviser for the college publications, the Greetings and the Illiwoco.

E. CLARENDON SMITH

As Business Manager of the college, Mr. Smith has proven himself fully capable of meeting the problems which arise in the management of the business affairs.

Post graduate students Betty Hartmon, Betty McCue, Dorothy Petrie, Gertrude Stern, and Doris Warren.

GRADUATE SCHOOL

It has been five years since the MacMurray Graduate School was established. These five years have seen many changes in its development. At the present time the department is able to offer advanced work in many fields. Dr. Henry M. Halverson, director of the school, serves as both friend and adviser to the post graduate students.

The girls in the graduate department live on the school campus and assist in some of the classes. Those students working for their M.Ed. degrees are Betty Hartman, Betty McCue, and Doris Warren. Dorothy Petrie and Gertrude Stern are seeking M.A. degrees in the field of psychology.

Ann Rutledge Hall

THE SENIOR CLASS

The Centennial Celebration gave this year's Senior Class the opportunity of being the first Senior Class to wear caps and gowns before recognition day . . . Betty Rowden and Vera Dille were co-chairmen for the Senior tea given on November 2 . . . Dorothy Danielson and Betty Lightfoot planned weekly senior breakfasts . . . On Senior Cut Day the class went to St. Louis . . . Nanette Herbuveaux was queen for the class ball "Silver Interlude" on November 30. Marion Rucci was chairman . . . On Thanksgiving morning the class gave their traditional serenade through the dorms . . . Leola Schrader was elected Community Chest Queen . . . Grass campaign chairman, Hatty Hatch, was also Grass Queen . . . Winnie Shultz planned May Day activities and Merle Hansen the May Day Dance . . . And on May 25 the Seniors donned their caps and gowns for the last time to receive their diplomas.

THE WHO'S WHO GIRLS

BETTY DAVIS

CONLEE-KENT CUP

Betty Davis received the Conlee-Kent Memorial Cup last November at the Junior Recognition Day services. Along with this honor came the hearty approval of her classmates who knew that she was the junior who truly exemplified the motto of "Knowledge, Faith, and Service" during her sophomore year. She is well known on campus for her poise and her capability in performing any duty, no matter how small or how great it may be. The Junior class is proud to claim Betty as its cup winner.

CAP AND GOWN

After the Last Chapel every spring, the students gather to witness the time-honored ceremony of the choosing of the new Cap and Gown members. In May of 1946, they saw Phyllis Hamer, Charlene Hext, Merle Hansen, and Barbara Taylor welcomed into the honorary society by the retiring senior members with the rose of friendship, the mortar board of honor, and the kiss of sisterhood. Phyl, a kindergarten-primary major, was looking forward to taking up her duties as Fire-Captain and Inter-Society Council president during her senior year; Chuckie, having been prominent in Little Theater activities was a member of MacMurray Players, National Collegiate Players, and was anticipating a busy year as station manager of WMMC; Murry, vice-president elect of the senior class of '47, had just finished a strenuous year as editor of the ILLIWOCO; and Bobbie Taylor, after three years of active participation in student government, was preparing to assume the position of president of the Students Association.

THE ELIZABETH REARICK TROPHY WINNER

At the R. A. Chapel this spring the honor of receiving the Elizabeth Rearick Trophy went to Joan Daker. The trophy is presented each year to the senior girl who has shown an active interest in the Recreation Association and who has displayed good sportsmanship consistently throughout her four years at MacMurray. Jo has exemplified this girl in every way.

Organizations

Seated: Martho Kleymeyer, Barboro Crass, Ja Ann Pospichal, Virginio Murphy, Jane Olander, Doris Cooley.

Standing: Marijone Purvis, Barbara Taylor, Norma Miller.

STUDENTS ASSOCIATION

BARBARA TAYLOR
President

The aim of the Students Association is to make students feel as if they belong to MacMurray—that each and every one can have an active part in the organization. This year a special effort was made to acquaint the freshmen with the association by having student officers take over several orientation classes. Also the legislative meetings have done much to further the effective functioning of student government. The officers this year were: Barbara Taylor, president; Marijane Purvis, judicial director; Barbara Cross, S.O.S. chairman; Norma Miller, vice-president; Doris Cooley, secretary; Jane Olander, treasurer; Martho Kleymeyer, president of off-campus houses; Virginia Murphy and Jo Ann Pospichal, presidents of Harker and Main; Catherine Lockridge and Nancy Kaufmann, freshmen representatives.

Y. W. C. A.

VIRGINIA HINRICHSEN
President

The Young Women's Christian Association is one of the most worthwhile organizations on campus and one of which every MacMurray girl can be proud to be a member. Its activities are many and varied, but each of them has as its goal finer spiritual feeling between individuals and organizations. Through its student parties, Thanksgiving tea dance, baskets for the poor, old clothes drive, gifts for underprivileged children, Christmas carolling, and Heart Sister Week, the Y.W.C.A. this year has continued its noble endeavors. President Virginia Hinrichsen has guided the group with the help of Betty Lee Jones, vice-president; Marcia Melvin, secretary; and Jean Ann Myers, treasurer.

Seated: Virginia Hinrichsen, Ann Roberts, Barbara Sowa, Jo Ann Sowa, Joann Wegge, Betty Jones.

Standing: Jean Ann Myers, Ann Elsea, Dorothy Armitage, Marcia Melvin.

Seated: Margaret Harris, Jane Sellers, Carol Smith, Phyllis Wolfe, Gloria Schramek, Mary Mollers.
 Standing: Ann Rose Murfey, Frances Price, Barbara McCard, B. J. Harper, Patricia Daugan.

THE ILLIWOCO EDITORIAL STAFF

Here we are, the people who have worked and planned for the last year in order to bring this book to you. The many hours of work and worry are behind us now, leaving in their place this volume of memories. It is our sincere hope that it adequately covers this very important year in MacMurray's life. Mr. Harold E. Gibson and Mrs. Roma Hawkins served as advisers for the publication and Carol Smith was the editor-in-chief. Phyllis Wolfe served as assistant editor; Mary Mallers, society editor; Margaret Harris, assistant society editor; Ann Rose Murfey, copy editor; Jane Sellers and Barbara McCord, literary editors; Frances Price, sports editor; Betty Jean Harper, art editor; Patricia Daugan, photography editor; and Gloria Schramek, index editor.

THE ILLIWOCO BUSINESS STAFF

The financing and circulation of the 1947 ILLIWOCO is the duty of the business staff. The staff also plans the advertising section of the book. This group works closely with the editorial staff in budgeting the income and meeting the expenses of the book. Sources of income are from the advertising sold to local merchants, from student and faculty subscriptions, and from the college organizations. Mr. Harold Gibson is the adviser, Joann Engeswick is the business manager, and Martha Wilcox is the advertising manager. The advertising assistants are Doris Cooley, Ann Elsea, Ruth Huntington, and Rose Silverstein. Mary Catherine Kennedy is the circulation manager.

THE GREETINGS EDITORIAL STAFF

PATRICIA WILSON and FREDA JANE SANDERS
Editors

Working on the staff of the MacMurray College paper, the GREETINGS, gives to girls with journalistic inclinations the chance to show their talent. This was an especially active year, for the paper published two major issues. The celebration of the centennial was climaxed by the fourth number of the year, a sixteen-page historical survey and summary of the five-day commemoration of the founding of MacMurray. This issue was published under the editorship of Freda Jane Sanders. Following spring vacation, the fiftieth year of the publication was recognized by a special issue, the Jubilee GREETINGS. Patricia Wilson edited this issue. During the first semester, Peggy Craven served as copy editor with Freda Jane Sanders as editor-in-chief.

On Floor: Grimm, Griffith, Eaton, Heck, Murphy, Stelle, Halden, M. Rinear.

Seated: Melvin, Kangus, Lee, Sanders, Craven, J. Alexander, B. Peterson, Williams.

Standing: P. Wilson, G. Kerr, Fasdick, Fieweger, Davissan, Staytan, Marrill, Schlosser, Gustin, Knudsen, Adams, Sebastian, B. Lewis.

THE GREETINGS BUSINESS STAFF

Second semester elections chose Patricia Wilson to succeed as editor with Joan Alexander as her assistant. Jane Karraker was the business manager for the first semester, with Janet Gustafson and Doris Runyan assisting her as advertising managers. For the second term Janet Gustafson assumed the duties of business manager. On December 14 the GREETINGS sponsored "Christmas Fiesta", its annual Yuletide dance, which proved to be very successful. Marcia Melvin served as chairman for the event, with Betty Peterson as decorations chairman.

JANET GUSTAFSON and JANE KARRAKER
Business Managers

Seated: Joan Llewellyn, Jane Karraker, Janet Gustafson.
Standing: Miriom Keilman, Potricia Srebre, Margaret Robson, Rosemory Shetler, Noncy Wise,
Mary Ann Lessel.

INTER - SOCIETY COUNCIL

To co-ordinate and regulate the activities and purposes of the four upperclass societies is the main function of the Inter-society Council. The Council, which has as its adviser Dean Roma N. Hawkins, consists of the president and vice-president of each society along with two elected members. Phyllis Hamer of Phi Nu and Margaret Lonergan of Belles Lettres were president and secretary respectively. In helping to fulfill its purpose this year, the council sponsored a card party and two breakfasts for its members, plus a spring dance which was open to the entire school. It also directed the fall and mid-year rushing activities.

On Floor: Bowers, Lugg, Allen, Voughn.
Seated: M. Kennedy, Askew, Melvin, T. Davis, Corbon.
Standing: J. Alexander, Shaberg, McCord.

BELLES LETTRES

MARCIA MELVIN
President

Members of Belles Lettres started their 1946-1947 activities off with a bang by participating in the Centennial celebration. In one of the scenes of the pageant, B.L. girls portrayed a meeting such as was held in the days when Belles Lettres was first a society. The rush parties, "Spellbound at the Haunted House" and "Black Magic," furnished the next big event of the year. After that glorious week-end of parties came the pledge period which ended with initiation and a hayride given by the pledges. The beginning of 1947 and a new semester brought the mid-year rush party—an open house where B.L.s' welcomed their guests to the "Rainbow Room" in B.L. Hall. Other activities in which the girls joined together were serenades, coffees, and holiday parties.

LAMBDA ALPHA MU

"Here's to our Lambda Alpha Mu," sang each one of her daughters at the rush parties last fall. That was an appropriate beginning for a very active year made up of pledge parties, the alumnae coffee in February, the annual spring banquet, and Lambda's special service—her Jacksonville Girl Scout Troop. Carol Dick and Margaret Spence were in charge of the troop, but each member of Lambda participated in its direction. Lambda Alpha Mu deserves a toast from everyone for her service to the community.

PHI NU

Linked in a chain of friendship under the Phi Nu oak leaf, all sixty-three members of the "blue and blue" worked and played together this year. They opened the activities of the year with their rush parties under the direction of Margaret Flynn and Betty Tanner. Vera Dille then took over the supervision of the pledges as pledge mother. Jan Anderson was second semester rush captain and Barbara Flury was pledge mother. In the spring of the year they had their alumnae coffee and wound-up their activities with the annual banquet in May.

THETA SIGMA

As the girls of Theta Sigma joined in their last friendship circle at the May banquet, they looked back upon a very satisfying and eventful year. It all started with the rush parties planned by Polly Schaefer and Jo Warton—and after that a pleased and proud group of pledges were greeted into the society, and were led through their weeks of initiation by pledge captain, Jean Waldvogel. Each Theta girl remembered the parties, breakfasts, suppers, and serenades in which she took part, and also the April Alumnae Coffee with Betty Johann in charge. And several times during the year a newsletter edited by Ginny Hinrichsen was sent out to Theta Alumnae so they could feel they were still a part of Theta Sigma Society.

ALPHA KAPPA SIGMA

GLORIA SCHRAMEK, Sponsor and
ANNE GEISEL, President

The members of Alpha Kappa Sigma recognized the primary purpose of freshman societies—to help freshmen become better acquainted with their classmates—and presented several parties during the year. A party held after the society plays was organized by Mary Lou Cooley. The faculty coffee was planned by Sue Skinner; and the spring banquet was the final event of the year. Anne Geisel was president of the society; Mary Lou Cooley, vice-president; Peggy Willcox, secretary; Sue Skinner, treasurer; and Barbara McCullaugh, recorder. Gloria Schramek was sponsor.

First Row: Murrie, Hayes, Lovingfass, Odell, Griffith, P. Jahnsan, Kington, M. Keilman, Patter.

DELTA THETA NU

Betty Davis guided the Delta Theta Nu members through a very successful and active year. Officers chosen to lead the society were: Joan Fraseur, president; Colleen Newell, vice-president; Virginia Foltz, secretary; Phyllis Johnston, treasurer; and Margaret Porter, recorder. A formal coffee was held for the faculty in November. In December the members enjoyed an outing at the P.E. cabin. A skating party, an all-school card party, and formal banquet were included in the activities of the society. Betty Davis also directed "The Trysting Place" by Booth Tarkington which won first place in the Freshman one-act play contest.

EPSILON KAPPA PHI

DOROTHY BROTHERSON, Sponsor and
PEGGY EDWARDS, President

Dorothy Brotherson supervised the activities of Epsilon Kappa Phi this year. Officers elected were Peggy Edwards, president; Beatrice Nelson, vice-president; Patty Madden, secretary; Marguerite Stelle, treasurer; Mary Rafferty, recorder. In December there was the faculty coffee with Peggy Edwards in charge, followed by a Christmas party planned under the direction of Bea Nelson. The society play was directed by Chuckie Hext. Before the special church service for all societies, Epsilon Kappa Phi met for breakfast at the Dunlap. In March following dinner one Sunday, the group had a theater party. Its Spring Banquet was April 18.

KAPPA SIGMA THETA

Mary Catherine Kennedy ably guided the Kappa Sigma Thetas through this year. The society's activities were highlighted by the faculty coffee in February planned by Polly Page, a cabin party in May, and a one-act play "The Family Failing" directed by Alberta Jackson, which won second place in the contest. President of the society was Joan Blair; vice-president, Caroline Fraser; secretary, Pat Seibel; treasurer, Margalou Vogel; and recorder, Betty Seith.

PHI KAPPA DELTA

MARILYN WEISS, President and
JEANE HAGEN, Sponsor

The 1946 season for Phi Kappa Delta began early in the year with a get-acquainted party in the Hub. Later the entire society had breakfast at the Dunlap Hotel and went to church in a group. One of the highlights of the season was the presentation of a one-act play called, "The Teeth of the Gift Horse." A faculty coffee was also an important event on the calendar as well as the formal banquet. Participation in a cabin party was enjoyed by the members. The society was led by Marilyn Weiss, president. The other officers were Elizabeth Moore, vice-president; Jean Vogeles, secretary; Barbara Selders, treasurer; and Sherry Reddick, recorder. The sponsor was Jeane Hagen.

PHI TAU EPSILON

Phi Tau Epsilon displayed a great deal of enthusiasm at the various meetings and activities throughout the year. From the impressive early initiation of officers and members to the spring cabin party, Phi Tau was constantly planning other society functions under the direction of Paula Coonen. The society coffee with Nina Wertz as chairman, the contest play "The Mandarin Coat," directed by Freda Jane Sanders, and the society banquet were a part of its busy schedule. Officers were Laura Ota, president; Mary Perkins, vice-president; Joan Shade, secretary; Helen Lawson, treasurer; and Barbara Johnston, recorder.

Standing: Mr. Guy, Doris Jeon Gradean, Mrs. Cleeland, Lois Carbon, Moriann Anderson.

THE ART DEPARTMENT

The outside activities of the art department have centered around the attempt to provide the campus with interesting exhibits and examples of the better work done in the class room. Mr. and Mrs. James Guy and Mrs. Joseph Cleeland have been advisers on all the department's endeavors. The student exhibits have included most of the art students work. They have shown upper class oil paintings, beginning drawing work, work from every phase of the commercial department, as well as individual senior shows. Exhibits outside of student work have included an exhibit on modern design and a show of reproductions of modern art. Exhibit chairman was Alberta Krebbs. Besides these exhibits and class work, seminars have been held with open discussion of problems in the painting world of today. Student leaders have organized these discussions.

NATIONAL COLLEGIATE PLAYERS

Alberta Jackson, Dr.
Ray Holcombe, Pauline
Schaefer, Charlene Hext.

Our two dramatic organizations, National Collegiate Players and MacMurray Players, worked together to bring to the campus a series of very successful productions. Among these were "Tobias and the Angel," "The Eager Heart," and "Mexicomeddy." Dr. Ray Holcombe served as adviser of both groups, with Polly Schaefer as president of N.C.P. and Jean Waldvogel as president of the Players.

CHOIR

MR. BUSCHE, Director and
ANN ALLEN, President

The MacMurray College Choir, directed by Mr. Henry Busche, started out the year by presenting a program of music written especially for the Centennial, including the impressive "Ann Rutledge." The choir toured this year, singing at Sullivan, Springfield, and Virginia. In May the group worked with the Illinois College choir to present Haydn's "Creation." Ann Allen was president; Dorothy Brotherson, vice-president; Mary Jane Benscoter, secretary-treasurer; Mary Louise Nies, publicity chairman; Carolyn Craver, robe chairman; and Frances Whisler, librarian.

First Row: Meiselwitz, Overend, Holkenbrink, Firnhober, Jenner, Mulcohey, Phillips, Culp, Seymour, Newell, Shimer, Newbould, Naudett, Bouter.

MADRIGAL

One of the major musical organizations on campus is the Madrigal Club, which is composed of members from the four classes. Under the direction of Miss Lucille Haney, the club, in conjunction with the choir, presented vesper services at Christmas and Easter. Madrigal also cooperated with the band in presenting a program for Dad's Day and a concert later in the spring. Gretchen Phillips served as president, and Betty Ayers as secretary-treasurer.

GRETCHEN PHILLIPS, President and MISS HANEY, Director

First Row: Gustin, Moore, Young, Pittman, Phillips, Huff, Kangus.

Second Row: C. Craver, Seymour, Piper, Crane, Yankee, Carter, Shewhart, Carrott, Gerhald, Rusher.

Standing: McClusky, Blaser, H. Rogers, Floro.

BAND

Student musicians at MacMurray have an opportunity to become members of the college band, directed by Mr. Henry E. Busche. The wide range of band literature and full band instrumentation are important features of this organization which aids in the development of musical talent. The band makes its appearances at campus sings, pep rallies, athletic events; it gives a regular concert, and culminates its year's program with the annual Dad's Day Concert. The band acted as hostess to participants in the annual Spring Festival. Rehearsals were held twice a week. Several men from Illinois College augmented the organization. Carolyn Craver was president of the group and Doris Gustin was concert mistress.

Seated: Elizabeth Lugg, Dorothy Haffman, Hope Hoff, Frances Lang, Dorothy Armitage.

Standing: Barbara Griffith, Charlotte Erb, Carol Roy, Susan Moedinger.

CAMPUS COMMUNITY CHEST

In order to facilitate and co-ordinate all the drives on campus, the Campus Community Chest Committee was organized for the first time this year. It incorporated within it all drives previously sponsored by the various organizations on campus and was carried on simultaneously with the Red Cross Drive for the convenience of the students. The committee, with Miss Faith Finnberg as adviser, was headed by Hope Hoff as chairman and consisted of the following members: Frances Lang, Dorothy Armitage, Elizabeth Lugg, Carol Roy, Dorothy Hoffman, Charlotte Erb, Susan Moedinger, and Barbara Griffith.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

As educated college women we should all be able to talk intelligently on current world affairs. The International Relations Club, or I.R.C. as it is commonly called, is the group on campus which helps us in attaining this end. The group itself meets every month, and at this meeting the program is conducted after the pattern of the United Nations Security Council. Each member of the United Nations is represented by from five to ten girls. In this way the girls are able to witness world government in action. The club was ably directed by its president, Maxine Askew, and was under the guidance of Dr. Walter B. Hendrickson. Assisting them were vice president, Jo Ann King and Secretary-treasurer, Ruth Layman. In addition to their monthly meetings, every Tuesday evening the I.R.C. sponsored a news round-up which was open to everyone and which featured both faculty and student speakers.

First Row: Harper, Robinson, Schaeffer, Jahann, Johnsan, Gher, Askew, Dr. Hendricksan, King, Layman, Engeswick, Carraa, Ingram.

Norris, Cannan, Tankersley, Elliot, Doyle, Raegge, Lavery, B. Lonergan.

JACKSONVILLE CLUB

This year the town girls had something new waiting for them when they returned to MacMurray. On the first floor of Main Hall were new rooms for them to take the place of the Town Girl's House. From these rooms issued forth plans for a busy year. The first event was a picnic at the P.W. cabin with freshman guests. Supper meetings were held once a month. In April, Kay Baker and her committee put their heads together and came forth with the plans for their annual dance, the Cotton Ball. To this dance were invited high school seniors. President of the group this year was Martha Spink; vice-president was Joan Drury; secretary, Jane Lonergan; treasurer, Shirleyan Green Baptist; and program chairman, Carolyn Kirkwood. Dr. Elsa P. Kimball sponsored the club.

SCRIBBLERS

Evidence of loyalty to an oath may be seen twice each month when Scribblers meet to discuss manuscripts, the results of inspirations and ink-smudged fingers. The purpose of Scribblers is to encourage the best in creative writing of all types. Members are elected once each semester by tryouts. Events of the year were sponsored by Miss Dorothy Burrows, club adviser. President of the club was Jane Shannon and vice-president was Doris Jean Grodeon. Doris Gustin served as secretary-treasurer. The year's activities included the open meeting and the sale of the traditional Christmas cards which were designed by Doris Jean Grodeon and composed by Jane Shannon. Peggy Craven was editor of the annual publication of Inkspirations, and Doris Gustin was business manager.

First Row: Klose, Horton, Grodeon, Shannon, Gustin, Sonders, Heck, Murphy.

A. C. E.

Interest in promoting the education of young children and the subsequent raising of teaching standards is the only prerequisite to membership in the MacMurray College Association for Childhood Education. The local organization is a branch of the National A.C.E. and sent four representatives to the fall state convention. Frances Lane, president, guided the club's activities with the assistance of Dorothy Armitage, vice-president; Barbara Hunter, secretary; Doris Perry, treasurer; and Miss Ellen Nudd, adviser. A demonstration by students from the Deaf School was put on in February for the annual open meeting, and in April the kindergarten project was presented. The annual senior breakfast closed the events for the year.

TIRONIAN CLUB

The Tironians opened the year with a coffee which served the purpose of welcoming new students in the business department and acquainting them with the club. The most outstanding feature of this year has been a series of Business Lectures which were organized by Mr. Hitch, sponsor. Included in the events of the year were the annual formal banquet with Mary Nutt as chairman, a cabin party, a trip to St. Louis, table parties, and the monthly meetings. At the spring banquet the Tironian Scholarship Cup was presented to the freshman attaining the highest grades in the department. The officers this year have been president, Lorraine Fieweger; vice-president, Ruth Harper; secretary, Dorothy Frazier; treasurer, Carol Deutsch; and co-program chairmen, Dorothy Leaverton and Harriet Scott.

First Row: Nordmon, Horris, Newton, Frozier, Horper, Mr. Hitch, Fieweger, Leoverton, Winters, Sidle, Wertz, Miller.

Third Row: S. Collins, L. Jones, Robson, Schaeffer, Elseo, Croyton, C. Ingersoll, Shetlor, Bevirt, Ryner, Shewhort.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Economics Club claims for membership only those students who major or minor in the field of Home Economics. It is organized for the double purpose of learning more about the possibilities in the field and of getting acquainted with one another in the department. Probably the most inspiring project of the club's year was the presentation of a basket of food and a box of clothes to a needy family at Christmas time. Programs for the year included speakers, membership participation, and a dinner consisting of international foods. A highlight in the year's activities was the Open Meeting, for which Mrs. Laura Weillepp Bailey was the guest speaker. Mrs. Bailey was formerly the home economist with the Wilson Packing Company in Chicago. In 1946-47 Ruth Bowers headed the club as president and Betty Rowden, Virginia Murphy, and Jeanne Hagen, respectively, were vice-president, secretary, and treasurer. Miss Mate Giddings acted as adviser.

- And Her Sports Life

On Floor: Mary Ann Sahn, Barbara Hopper.

Seated: B. J. Harper, Betty Ingram, Ann Rose Murfey.

Standing: Phyllis Griffen, Joan Daker, Susan Maedinger, Mary Cantrell, Margaret Flynn.

THE R. A. BOARD

BETTY INGRAM, President

The Recreation Association Board, headed by Betty Ingram, president, plans and coordinates the recreational activities on campus. The Board is composed of the elected officers of the association, class and town girls' representatives, the freshman chairman, and the adviser, Dr. Elizabeth Rearick. R.A. promotes good sportsmanship and individual participation in athletics and other recreational activities. It also encourages and furthers physical, mental, and social development by means of the play spirit. The two clubs affiliated with R.A. are the Macquatics Club and Riding Club. Every student at MacMurray is a member of the association and may participate in any R.A. function which she desires.

On Floor: Wilson, Erb, Briar, Bertoglio.

Seated: C. Ingersoll, C. Hansen, Harper, Flury, Whisler, Diers.

Standing: Karraker, Grodean, B. Peterson, Paspichal, Price, S. Schmidt.

THE R. A. COUNCIL

Working under the R.A. Board the R.A. Council assists in organizing the various types of individualistic and competitive sports to be found on our campus. The council, which is headed by R.A. Vice-president, Betty Jean Harper, is composed of sports managers from the varied activities and representatives from every class.

"B. J." HARPER, Vice-President

THE P.E. CLUB

The creation of a better cooperative spirit academically and socially among young women interested in physical education as a profession is the goal of the P.E. Club. The club, which is composed of all students majoring or minoring in this field, was headed this year by President Joan Daker, Vice-President Jayne Weller, Secretary Ruth Huntington, Treasurer Marilyn Newell, and Cabin Chairman Frances Price, and has had as its adviser Miss Janet Wessel. Throughout the year the club brought various outside speakers to the campus; presented its annual "Club 13" directed by Winnie Shulz, and in February had an informal gathering at the cabin.

First Row: Gonckowski, Studley, McDougall, Meiselwitz, Moedinger, Droke, Hess, Sohn.

Second Row: B. J. Harper, Doyle, M. A. Smith, Price, Weller, Doker, Huntington, M. Newell, Ingram, Gher, Geisel.

Third Row: Borclay, McDougall, Lockridge, Loymon, Woss, Myller, Froser, Taylor, Ingrom, Sohn, Weller.

MACQUATICS CLUB

One of the more active organizations on campus is the Macquatics Club. Members are chosen on the basis of their ability, their prospects of improvement, and their interest in swimming. In December an Inter-class Swim Meet was held in which girls competed in racing and diving contests. The biggest event of the year was the Dad's Day Water Show production "Night and Day," which was under the direction of Nanette Herbeveux. The club's officers were Jayne Weller, president; Jean Scammon, vice-president; Dorothy Gumm, secretary; Elaine Ruck, treasurer; Fay Diers, R.A. representative; and Miss Carrie Spencer, adviser.

MAC MOUNTIES

MacMurray's riding club began this year with a new name—Mac Mounties. This club sponsored all riding, including riding for R.A. credit, team shows, inter-collegiate meets, the Gymkhana show and the May Day show. Officers were president, Lindy Rippel; vice-president, Dorothy Gumm; secretary-treasurer, Nova Ann Gher; R.A. representative, Doris Jean Grodeon; team manager, Dot Goebel; and scrapbook-keeper, Jo Tucker. Members of the riding team were Lindy Rippel, Marty Kleymeyer, Marty David, Velma Snyder, Betty Rowden, Win Shultz, Jean Waldvogel, Ann Plotz, Annalee Bils, Chuck Erb, Doris Jean Grodeon, and Jean Collins. Miss Doris Greenwalt sponsored the group.

The hockey season for this year was managed by Frances Price, with Miss Elizabeth Meyer serving as adviser. The results of an exciting inter-class tournament showed the Sophomore class coming out on top. At the climax of a very successful season came the annual Thanksgiving Army-Navy game. This proved to be an even more thrilling game than expected, as the teams were evenly matched and the playing was hard and fast. The final tally showed the Navy team as the victor with a 3-2 score over the Army team. Miss Doris Warren and Miss Betty Hartman acted as referees during the season.

Kneeling: Irene Ganckowski, Alice Drake, Harriet Bertaglia.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The interclass tourney of the basketball season ended in a three-way tie between the Seniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen. At the Army-Navy game the Army team brushed past the Navy and defeated them 20-17. The referees were Miss Doris Warren and Miss Betty Hartman. This year the outstanding players on Varsity played as a team and beat Wheaton and Knox Colleges and Bradley University and tied with Monticello College. Jerry Kerr was manager this season and Miss Elisabeth Meyer was adviser.
